The National Science Teachers Association (NSTA), founded in 1944 and headquartered in Arlington, Virginia, is the largest organization in the world promoting excellence and innovation in science teaching and learning for all.

NSTA is committed to improving science teaching by enhancing teachers’ professional development, developing and delivering ready-to-use teaching resources, connecting teachers with their colleagues, and serving as their advocate.

“I like getting journals because I can read about what others are doing in science teaching. They are written by teachers and are in ‘my language.’ I also like to network and NSTA helps me do that. And the discounts are nice, too!”
