

THE ZULA INTERNATIONAL–NSTA EARLY SCIENCE EDUCATOR AWARD

PROGRAM SUMMARY:

A partnership of the Zula International and the National Science Teachers Association, this award recognizes two pre-Kindergarten through second grade school teachers, who have innovative science inquiry programs in early education. One award will honor a member of either the National Science Teachers Association or the Council of Elementary Science International, while the second will honor a member of the National Association for the Education of Young Children or the National Head Start Association.

The award consists of $400, and $1000 to attend the NSTA National Conference on Science Education. The recipient of the Award will be honored during the Awards Banquet at the NSTA Conference.

The winning selection will become part of NSTA's and Zula International's Web sites and thus available for use by other early childhood teachers and students. Award recipients agree to:

- ★ Correspond by email, and possibly other means, with early childhood science teachers to share experiences and information related to lessons selected
- ★ Encourage students to share their work on the project with children in schools around the world, via Internet and other means.
- ★ Cooperate with NSTA as this information is collected in ways designed to improve the teaching of science in early childhood school setting.
- ★ Local press coverage.

THE ZULA INTERNATIONAL–NSTA EARLY SCIENCE EDUCATOR AWARD

CHECKLIST

Occasionally we receive entries that are incomplete or in which the applicant did not follow the specified guidelines. Entries that do not follow the stated rules for submission are disqualified, regardless of the merit or innovation of the entry. Make sure you and a colleague review the checklist below before sending in your application so you can ensure that your efforts will not be disqualified. Ensure that your application communicates the information you intend. Don't forget to check for correct spelling. All written components should be typed and double spaced, on standard 8-1/2" x 11" white paper, with 1" margins. The font is a standard 12-point size or larger. If you have questions regarding your application, please e-mail awards@nsta.org.

Complete the list, sign it, and attach it to your application. Each entry includes

- A completed Zula International-NSTA Early Science Educator Award application form reflecting National Science Education Standards, signed by you and your principal.
- A narrative describing the nominee's innovative science inquiry program/practices, science implementation techniques, parent/family engagement, and student/family outcomes and impact, not to exceed 500 words.
- Two lessons (not to exceed three pages) supporting the objectives described above, along with examples of student work representative of that lesson.
- Two letters of support: one from an education colleague who can describe the merit of the applicant's work, and one from a parent involved in the science program.
- Attach a resume or vita, not exceeding two pages.
- Application is bound together with a binder clip (no presentation binders).
- Include the completed application.
- Label each section and number each page.

Please be advised that you may apply for more than one award; however, you are eligible to win only one NSTA award per year. Each application must be based on a unique program and process. Submission of the same idea and materials to different NSTA award programs will result in the disqualification of all applications. If your idea or project has received an NSTA award in the past, that idea or project is not eligible to receive an additional award. If you are selected to receive an award, NSTA must request and receive your social security number to issue a 1099 form to you. If your program is currently grant funded, confirm that you, as an individual, are eligible to receive a cash award. Your application will not be returned and becomes the property of NSTA. If you have received an award for this project from another provider, you must notify NSTA. If your application is selected to receive an award, NSTA reserves the right to reproduce information/photos/other content in promotional material and on the NSTA website. By submitting material that contain images of students and other individuals, you assume complete responsibility for obtaining appropriate release consent forms and permission to transfer these materials to NSTA. Electronic submission is preferred. Incomplete applications will not be considered.
