

Me and My Shadow

Five friends were looking at their shadows early one morning. They wondered what their shadows would look like by the end of the day. This is what they said:

Jamal: “My shadow will keep getting longer throughout the day.”

Morrie: “My shadow will keep getting shorter throughout the day.”

Amy: “My shadow will keep getting longer until it reaches its longest point and then it will start getting shorter.”

Fabian: “My shadow will keep getting shorter until noon and then it will start getting longer.”

Penelope: “My shadow will stay about the same from morning to day’s end.”
